On October 9th, St. Francis of Assisi Parish invites all area residents and guests to come to their first Fall Festival. The Fall Festival will include arts and crafts, games, fall food favorites, a magic act, hayrides, a petting zoo, and much more!

On October 9th, 2010, from 5:30 until 10:00 pm, St. Francis of Assisi parish in South St. Louis County will open its grounds to celebrate the season with its first ever Fall Festival. The festival will feature family-friendly activities and a complete fall menu.

One of the highlights is the expansive petting zoo, which will include goats, pigs, rabbits, chicks, a llama, and even a giant tortoise. Also sure to be a hit is the baby cow, which festival-goers will have the opportunity to milk. Pony rides will also be available.

Another fan favorite is Christian the Magician, who will perform two shows during the event. He has worked his magic at the local library and at other area spots with rave reviews.

Other activities will include arts and crafts and a variety of games, as well as a hayride through the Land of Oz.

“This event is all about family fun. It’s cost-effective and we’re trying to offer something for everyone,” points out Michelle Harthill, coordinator of the event.

The cost of the event is $12.00 in advance and $15.00 at the door, and includes a bracelet for admission to all areas of the event. Advanced tickets can be purchased by contacting the planning committee or by completing a contact form online. Tickets need only be purchased by children under 18—parents may accompany their children at no charge.

Food will also be available for purchase and will include all the fall favorites, such as chili dogs, brats, caramel apples, kettle corn, funnel cakes, and much more.

The planning committee is still accepting sponsors for the event. Those interested can contact Harthill at 314-276-9175 or by visiting the website.

“A sponsorship at an event such as this really shows community spirit. Plus, it’s a great way to extend marketing efforts to the area,” states Harthill.
